Overview

Gail A. Engstrom is an attorney in Littler Mendelson's Knowledge Management department where she focuses on international labor and employment law. Gail manages various projects and initiatives of Littler's International Employment Law and Immigration practice groups. She is Associate Editor of The Littler Mendelson Guide to International Employment and Labor Law and edits Littler's Global Employment Law Blog.

In law school, Gail was an Associate Editor of the California Law Review. She began her legal career as clerk to the Honorable John E. Simonett and the Honorable Lawrence R. Yetka of the Minnesota Supreme Court. Gail's practice experience includes representing employers in connection with harassment claims and other employment-related disputes, as well as counseling clients about employment policies and procedures.

She also has experience working overseas in the legal department of a Fortune 100 company's Asia-Pacific headquarters, as the editor of a monthly magazine about law and the legal profession in Hong Kong, and as a marketing manager for the Hong Kong office of an international law firm.
