Overview

Judy Bombino has been exclusively engaged in the practice of immigration law for her career spanning a period of over 30 years. Her focus has been on employment-based and corporate immigration matters. Judy also has extensive experience in family-based immigration.

In the area of business immigration, Judy guides clients in obtaining both temporary work visas and permanent residency for their workforce. She focuses on complex matters and crafts creative solutions for large multinational entities transferring their executives and managers to the United States or wanting to hire professionals or persons of extraordinary ability. Judy assists companies in registrations for the E-2 visa after investments in the U.S. ranging from $50,000 to several million dollars. She prepares E-1 visa petitions for U.S. companies engaged in international commerce with a treaty country. Judy represents corporate clients for treaty visas at numerous U.S. consulates worldwide.

In the area of compliance, Judy provides advice and counsel for clients facing DOL investigations related to H-1B and E-3 visas. She routinely provides companies with best practices and recommendations on how to avoid violations. Judy also participates in training client compliance departments on the I-9 process.
