Overview

Stéphanie De Ridder has been an attorney since 2004 while also teaching courses in other contexts on the topics of labour law and legal issues connected with human resources.

Her practice focuses on all aspects of human resources law and in particular on providing advice regarding pay, the social status of executives, work accidents and litigation.

Stéphanie also publishes articles in various journals focusing on labour and social security law.

Previously, she was with the firm Crabeels-Michaux. From 2010 to 2011, she developed her skill and hands-on knowledge as a legal advisor in the social law team of Belfius Bank. From 2004 to 2010, she worked as an attorney at the firm Claeys & Engels.
